

February 17, 1963

Mr. Charles Quigley
2614 Kirkwood Place
West Hyattsville, Md.

Dear Charles:

First, an apology...I Haven't been able to get rates on coffee and pastry as yet. Secondly, the Taft's deadline is March 24. I hope my wire got to you before the application goes to press. Incidentally, the rest of the advance reservation planning seems complete to say the least. I will forward you maps, welcome letters and coffee prices.

As I wrote John Pegram, our Technical Director has already sent out letters to various equipment manufacturers regarding displays, representatives, and/or literature.

Other than the usual run of movies, the only entertainment of interest in New Haven on Saturday the 23rd is a concert to be given at Yale's Woolsey Hall by Theodore Bikel (internationally known folk singer and star of "Sound of Music.") Tickets are $1.50, $2.50, $3.50. I would urge those interested to send checks directly to the Hillel Foundation, 265 Yale Station, New Haven. In this way we won't be crowding up the application forms and will be saving IBS a lot of trouble in forwarding, processing, and the like. The Schubert Theatre which presents post and pre Broadway shows has nothing scheduled as yet for that weekend.

I have included in this letter information on the Travel Routes to New Haven from Boston and New York (auto and train), and also timetables for late Saturday and early Sunday returns. I have sent a copy of this to John Pegram also.

Things seem to be coming along nicely. I will keep in touch.

Sincerely,

John H. Davison, Chairman
The Yale Broadcasting Company

100-100000-100000
100-100000-100000
100-100000-100000

THE BATTLE

The battle was fought on the 1st of June, 1918, at the town of Amiens. The British and French forces, under the command of General Foch, defeated the German forces, who were led by General Ludendorff. The battle was a decisive victory for the Allies, and it marked the beginning of the end for the German Empire.

The battle was fought on the 1st of June, 1918, at the town of Amiens. The British and French forces, under the command of General Foch, defeated the German forces, who were led by General Ludendorff. The battle was a decisive victory for the Allies, and it marked the beginning of the end for the German Empire.

The battle was fought on the 1st of June, 1918, at the town of Amiens. The British and French forces, under the command of General Foch, defeated the German forces, who were led by General Ludendorff. The battle was a decisive victory for the Allies, and it marked the beginning of the end for the German Empire.

The battle was fought on the 1st of June, 1918, at the town of Amiens. The British and French forces, under the command of General Foch, defeated the German forces, who were led by General Ludendorff. The battle was a decisive victory for the Allies, and it marked the beginning of the end for the German Empire.

INFORMATION ON TRAVEL ROUTES TO NEW HAVEN.....

DRIVING INSTRUCTIONS:

From Boston to New Haven - Take Massachusetts Turnpike to Wilbur Cross Parkway. There is no exit number but a sign which reads "Exit here for Wilbur Cross Parkway." This leads to Hartford. At Hartford, go across Charter Oak Bridge and stay on Wilbur Cross (Berlin Turnpike). Take Exit #63 (Whitney Avenue) and follow Whitney Avenue (Changes to Church Street) to Chapel Street. Turn right at Chapel, another right at York, and another at Elm. Follow Elm to Hendrie Hall (165 Elm Street) which is right off the New Haven Green between College and Temple Streets.

From New York to New Haven - Get on the New England Thruway: From Long Island take Throgs Neck Bridge; From Westchester and across the Hudson River take Cross-Westchester Expressway (Interstate Highway #287) to intersection with the Thruway at Rye, New York. Once in Connecticut the New England Thruway becomes the Connecticut Turnpike. Exit at the Oak Street Connector in New Haven (clearly marked). Follow the Connector and leave it at the sign indicating College Street. Once off keep going straight, turn right at York Street and right again at Elm Street. Hendrie Hall is 165 Elm, between College Street and Temple Street.

TRAIN TIMETABLES:

From Boston to New Haven -

Friday

Leave Boston	arrive N.H.
1:00 pm	3:48 pm
2:30 pm	5:30 pm
4:00 pm	7:08 pm
5:00 pm	7:46 pm
6:00 pm	9:26 pm
8:45 pm	12:58 am

Saturday

Leave Boston	arrive NH
7:00 am	10:28 am
8:00 am	10:55 am
9:00 am	11:57 am

From New York to New Haven -
(Grand Central Station)

Friday

Leave N.Y.	arrive N.H.
1:00 pm	2:20 pm
3:00 pm	4:26 pm
6:00 pm	7:30 pm
9:00 pm	10:39 pm

Saturday

Leave N.Y.	arrive N.H.
7:30 am	8:52 am
8:00 am	9:28 am
10:00 am	11:27 am

From New Haven to Boston -

Saturday evening

Leave N.H.	Arrive Boston
6:28 pm	9:15 pm
7:37 pm	10:45 pm
9:00 pm	12:10 am

Sunday

Leave N.H.	arrive Boston
9:35 am	12:40 pm
11:37 am	2:35 pm
12:50 pm	4:10 pm
2:25 pm	5:15 pm

From New Haven to New York

Saturday evening

7:18 pm	9:00 pm
9:40 pm	11:03 pm

Sunday

11:03 am	12:25 pm
2:12 pm	3:35 pm
7:14 pm	8:50 pm

WINTER FALLS
EX ERAS
COTTON COMIT